SPECIFICATIONS FOR GALVANIZED STEEL STREET LIGHTING POLES 12m, DOUBLE ARM, PLANTED ROOT TYPE

Description

This Specification covers the requirements of CMC for supplying Double Armed, 12m height, octagonal street lighting poles - planted root type (without lamp) with the details shown in the drawings.

The work shall also include anchorage's fixtures and fastenings, brackets, application of paints and finishes, testing and all the process necessary

The offer shall comprise the following components.

- Galvanized Steel Poles

1. APPROVED BRANDS

All equipment shall be reputed branded and purchased from local agents.

2. SYSTEM PARAMETERS AND SERVICE CONDITIONS

1. Nominal Voltage – 400/230V
2. System Highest Voltage – 415/240V
3. System Frequency – 50 Hz
4. Average Ambient Temperature – 30^0C
5. Maximum Relative Humidity – 90%

Supporting accessories to the bracket shall be hot dipped galvanized and all nut and bolts shall be stainless steel.

3. PLANTED TYPE GALVANIZED STEEL DOUBLE ARM POLES

3.1 Fabrication

The structural material of the lighting column shall be cold rolled mild steel of a sufficient gauge having yield strength of not less than 36000 PSI. The thickness of the column must be 3.0 mm. The nominal mounting height should be 12.0m and the outreach of the bracket shall be 2.5m.

The cross section of a pole shall be octagonal, telescopic (made of two parts & double arm) and with continuous tapering from its root to the extreme tip except arms.

The mast shall generally be of the Planted Root type with a minimum provision of 150mm×55mm for cable entry, set 305mm below ground level and a chamber for supporting electrical control equipment.

Ground planted columns shall be designed for planting in the ground with a sufficient depth to resist overturning with a minimum factor of safety of 2, taking into consideration local soil conditions and maximum loading. The minimum planting depth shall be 1700mm.

All metal components shall be of first quality and free of gouges, pits or other surface defects. Welds shall be ground smooth or otherwise dressed and not readily available on casual inspection.

The columns shall present a smooth appearance overall, with particular attention to the junction of the outreach and vertical sections. All burrs and blemishes shall be removed from the edges of the materials used.

All sharp corners which could damage electrical cables either during installation or while in service shall be removed from exposed edges, holes and openings provided for cables and for access to electrical equipment. Door openings shall be free from irregularities and burrs.

Any cross section measured normal to the axis of the vertical component shall have a tolerance of ± 2% of outside diameter. On the outreach this tolerance shall be ± 5% of the nominal outside diameter of the cross section at that point. Out of round in excess of this tolerance shall be grounds of rejection of the columns. Allowance should be made for use with luminaries of approximately 12kg weight.

3.2 Galvanizing

The finished mast and its components including holding down nuts and bolts, shall be hot dipped galvanized to BS EN ISO 1461:1999, BS EN ISO 14713:1999 for both the exterior and interior and shall be quenched in a Sodium Dichromate or Preton W20 solution immediately after galvanizing to prevent white rust.

All iron and steel used in the works shall be galvanized after all sawing, shearing, drilling, punching, filling, bending, machining and welding operation is completed. The preparation for galvanizing and the galvanizing itself shall not distort or adversely affect the mechanical properties of the material.

The zinc coating shall be uniform, clean, smooth and free from spangle as far as possible. All galvanized items shall satisfy the tests specified in BS EN ISO 1461:1999, BS EN ISO 14713:1999.

Special care should be taken to protect the zinc coating of all galvanized parts from injury due to abrasion during periods of transport and shipping.

3.3 Service Aperture

An aperture shall be provided in the base portion of each column for access to control gear. The minimum dimensions of the aperture shall be 450mm × 120mm. Terminals and luminaire circuit breaker protection shall be mounted behind aperture.

The lower end of the aperture shall be at least 610mm above ground level. Subject to approval an alternative height to door opening may be used. Adequate stiffening shall be provided around the

An earth lug shall be also provided near the service door. Suitable lockable hinged type access doors shall be provided. Hinges should be galvanized or made of stainless steel.

The same pattern of door lock is to be used throughout on all columns installed. Two nos. of keys for each door lock shall be provided to the Engineer or Store Keeper.

3.4 Threaded Holes

Where threaded holes are required, those holes shall have threaded filler plugs placed in them prior to coating to avoid filling threads with coating materials. Filler plugs shall have hex heads or other similar type heads for ease of removal. Filler plugs shall not be removed by the coater prior to transport to the City.

The manufacturer shall provide a means of ventilating the structure poles at the top to allow a flow of air through the poles to keep the interior of the poles dry. Ventilation shall be placed in a location wherein it will not be visible from normal viewing angles.

3.5 Additional Requirements

Marking of Masts

All masts and brackets shall carry an identification mark which indicates the,

- Manufacturer's Identification
- Year of Manufacture

This information shall be clearly visible after erection of the masts.

I. Warranties

The manufacturer shall provide a written copy of the warranty showing that the pole manufacturer warrants the finish for a period of five years from the date of acceptance, against rusting of steel or rust creepage (unless coating has been damaged by physical means or vandalism) blistering or delaminating.

II. Certificates

All columns and brackets supplied must be manufactured by a company accredited under the Quality Assurance scheme ISO 9002 and the developer must supply a copy of the appropriate accreditation documentation as part of the record information to be provided.

Past evidence should be provided to prove that the type of lamp masts to be installed had been used near the sea shore for a period of at least 10 years without corroding.

III. Reports

The contractor shall submit calculations and shall also satisfy that the mast conforms structurally, to a lamp fitting weight loading with an extra 25% of same and wind loadings calculated for 35m/s wind speed. The depth of foundation shall vary accordingly.

- All accessories for fixing lighting cables

1.0 GALVANIZED STEEL SINGLE ARM POLES

I. Fabrication

The structural material of the lighting pole shall be cold rolled mild steel of a sufficient gauge having yield strength of not less than 36000 PSI. Minimum thickness of the pole should be 2.5mm. The nominal mounting height should be 10.0m and it shall have a minimum outreach of 2.0m.

The mast cross section of a pole shall be octagonal, telescopic (made of two parts & single arm) and with continuous tapering from its root to the extreme tip.

All metal components shall be of first quality and free of gouges, pits or other surface defects. Welds shall be ground smooth or otherwise dressed and not readily available on casual inspection.

The columns shall present a smooth appearance overall, with particular attention to the junction of the outreach and vertical sections. All burrs and blemishes shall be removed from the edges of the materials used. All sharp corners which could damage electrical cables either during installation or while in service shall be removed from exposed edges, holes and openings provided for cables and for access to electrical equipment. Door openings shall be free from irregularities and burrs.

Any cross section measured normal to the axis of the vertical component shall have a tolerance of ± 2% of outside diameter. On the outreach this tolerance shall be ± 5% of the nominal outside diameter of the cross section at that point. Out of round in excess of this tolerance shall be grounds of rejection of the columns. Allowance should be made for use with luminaries of approximately 12kg weight.

For this flanged type poles, columns shall be supplied with a galvanized steel base plate not less than 16mm thick and of adequate strength to take full wind loading. The base plate shall be provided with a minimum of four holes at equally spaced centers with 260mm c/c for attachment of holding down bolts. A hole with minimum diameter of 100mm shall be provided through the center of the base plate for cable entry. J bolts (length – 570mm, dia. – 24mm) minimum 04 Nos. shall be used to erect pole on concrete bases.

II. Galvanizing

The finished lamp post and its components including holding down nuts and bolts, shall be hot dipped galvanized to BS EN ISO 1461:1999, BS EN ISO 14713:1999 for both the exterior and interior and shall be quenched in a Sodium Dichromate or Preton W20 solution immediately after galvanizing to prevent white rust.

All iron and steel used in the works shall be galvanized after all sawing, shearing, drilling, punching, filling, bending, machining and welding operation is completed. The preparation for galvanizing and the galvanizing itself shall not distort or adversely affect the mechanical properties of the material. The zinc coating shall be uniform, clean, smooth and free from spangle as far as possible. All galvanized items shall satisfy the tests specified in BS EN ISO 1461:1999, BS EN ISO 14713:1999.

Special care should be taken to protect the zinc coating of all galvanized parts from injury due to abrasion during periods of transport and shipping.

III. Service Aperture

An aperture shall be provided in the base portion of each column for access to control gear. The minimum dimensions of the aperture shall be 450mm×120mm. Terminals and luminaire circuit breaker protection shall be mounted behind aperture. The lower end of the aperture shall be at least 610mm above ground level. Subject to approval an alternative height to door opening may be used. Adequate stiffening shall be provided around the aperture.

An earth lug shall be also provided near the service door. Suitable lockable hinged type access doors shall be provided. Hinges should be galvanized or made of stainless steel. The same pattern of door lock is to be used throughout on all columns installed. Two nos. of keys for each door lock shall be provided to the Engineer or Store Keeper.

IV. Threaded Holes

Where threaded holes are required, those holes shall have threaded filler plugs placed in them prior to coating to avoid filling threads with coating materials. Filler plugs shall have hex heads or other similar type heads for ease of removal. Filler plugs shall not be removed by the coater prior to transport to the City.

The manufacturer shall provide a means of ventilating the structure poles at the top to allow a flow of air through the poles to keep the interior of the poles dry. Ventilation shall be placed in a location wherein it will not be visible from normal viewing angles.

V. Internal Wiring

Internal wiring in between the terminal block in the lamp and the components in the base of the mast shall be PVC insulated and sheathed cable of 300/500V grade, manufactured to BS 7671:2001.

All cabling inside the lighting mast shall be of double insulated Cu/PVC/PVC conductor cable of minimum cross section of $3x1.5mm^2$ -13m per pole - for the connection between the light fitting and its individual protection 2P Miniature Circuit Breaker.

Control gear inside cobra head fittings shall also be earthed using same cable.

VI. Connector Boxes

All cable termination accessories required by the cable loop-in, loop-out method of wiring shall be contained within the mast together with the terminals for same, earth lug and the 2P Miniature Circuit Breakers protecting the lamp circuits. The equipment, completely wired and mounted on a separate mounting board shall be included inside a connector box. Suitably sized 04 nos. of terminal stations shall be mounted inside the box.

Connector Boxes should be rust free, water tight, dust proof enclosures suitable for coastal areas, with provisions for cable connecting which suits cable looping method. Class of protection should be IP65. If an insulating material is not used to fabricate connection boxes, each box should be mounted on a board of size 450mm×150mm×25mm, made of class I timber and bolted to the pole or use ceramic isolators. A sample shall be submitted prior to the supply of connection boxes.
